$1 million plan to pave Nameoki Rd.

Granite City is seeking a grant to widen Nameoki Road from Edwardsville Road north to Pontoon Road to provide left turn lanes for most intersections and relieve traffic congestion, it was announced Friday by Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler.

Schuler presented the plans to officials of the Federal Aid to Urban Systems Committee recently and told the committee that the Nameoki Road project is expected to cost $1 million and the city hopes to undertake the project in 1985.

The request for a grant was made in conjunction with a previously announced plan to resurface the old Route 3 from Venice, through Madison and Granite City. The state has abandoned the roadway, so the cities now are responsible for maintaining them and are seeking grants to put the roadbed in good condition.

Mayor Mike Sasyk of Madison and Mayor Tyrone Echols of Venice attended the FAUS Committee meeting and participated in the joint appeal for the project to be placed on the agenda of upcoming projects.

Planned for resurfacing in 1983, if funds can be found, are from where Route 3 enters Venice east on Broadway, north on Madison Avenue through Madison to 20th Street in Granite City, west on 20th Street to Missouri Avenue and north on Missouri Avenue to Pontoon Road.

The project will cost about $1.1 million, the mayors said.

The committee commended the mayors for their efforts and commented that it was the first time they recalled three separate governments working so closely together on one project for the good of all residents of the Quad-City area.

GIRL SCOUT WEEK is kicked off Saturday morning with a parade of three neighborhoods represented by more than 700 girls and leaders from 24th Street and Madison Avenue to the Granite City Hall where the U.S. Girl Scout and Girl Guides flags were posted.

Girl scout week began Sunday and continues through March 14 with many activities scheduled throughout the area. Pictured is Troop 454 from Logan School leaving the parking lot of the First Assembly of God Church.

Porter Cawly to retire

Porter Cawly, a 26-year veteran teacher and principal of the Madison School District, submitted his resignation Thursday night at a meeting of the Madison School board.

Cawly said he plans to retire at the end of the current school year as principal of Harris school, a position he has held since 1967.

Cawly joined the Madison district in 1955 as a teacher in social studies and the language arts. He remained there until 1966 when he was made Title One coordinator of the reading program, a post he held until the following year when he became principal of Harris school.

The retirement letter submitted to the board was accepted with regrets. Cawly will continue in his present position until the end of the school year in June.

The board Thursday night also received a plaque from the Parents of Special Education calling attention to Gov. James R. Thompson's proclamation of 1981 as Disabled Persons year. The board ordered the plaque hung in the board meeting room.

Board members also received a letter from the Tri-City Trades and Labor Council asking that the high school band participate in a Labor Day parade Sept. 7. Superintendent of Schools John Palchiff said he has not talked with the band director but in the absence of any conflicting schedules, the band will participate in the parade.

Permission was granted Caroline Sandor, cafeteria director, to attend sessions of the Illinois School Food Service Association convention in Chicago March 28 and 29, and permission was granted to send four secretaries to a convention of the Illinois Educational Office Secretaries in Champaign April 3-5.

A low bid of the Gateway Seed Co. on weed killer and fertilizer was accepted at $11 per 40-pound bag.

The board approved plans of the guidance department for a special course in study abilities for interested students. The class will be held several times each week after school classes in a program yet to be worked out, according to Palchiff.

Also approved was a schedule of special screening classes for kindergarten and early childhood pupils who will start school next year.

The screening which is to determine the placing of students at the start of the next school year will be held April 21 at Blair School from 1 to 7 p.m.

The screening also will be held at Harris School from 1 to 4 p.m. on April 22, and again at Harris School from 1 to 7 p.m. on April 23.

Transit board options open

By BILL WINTER of the Press-Record

Madison County's Mass Transit Board is walking a tightrope between conflicting citizen viewpoints and is trying to keep a variety of options open for the benefit of bus riders and taxpayers, Chairman William Haine said in an interview Friday.

In trying to avoid mis-steps atop that "tightrope," the board is cooperating fully with the Bi-State Transit System in seeking to improve bus service, and it credits Bi-State with a similar spirit of cooperation, he said.

Haine, who also addressed last week's Granite City prayer breakfast gathering, regards the present status of the three-member transit board as "politically untenable" but does not rule out the viability of a successor board that could be created by state legislation.

At the same time, creation of a "leave district" type of body—any sort of politically dominated transit program—is being scrupulously avoided, care has been taken to keep

Labor favors incumbents

The Tri-City Trades and Labor Council has given its endorsement to the re-election of Mayor Paul Schuler, City Clerk Robert W. Stevens and City Treasurer Nick Petrillo.

The 24 delegates representing allied AFL-CIO trades in the Quad-City area accepted a report of the legislative committee endorsing candidates in Granite City and in Nameoki, Chouteau, Venice and Granite City townships.

Schuler was endorsed over either Warren Decatur or Daniel Partney and Petrillo was endorsed over Bill Hebert, candidate for treasurer. Stevens is unopposed.

Aldermen endorsed were Fred "Pat" Schuman in the Second Ward, Glen Sprinkle in the Fourth Ward, Jake Varadian in the Fifth Ward, Woodrow Moad in the Sixth Ward and Paul Ray Bowler in the Seventh Ward.

In the First Ward, the council did not make an endorsement, but gave a favorable rating to all three candidates who appeared before the screening committee, incumbent Charles Douglas, and former aldermen William Dallas Sr. and Casmer Skubish.

Granite City Township Supervisor Nelson Hagnauer was endorsed for re-

Couple bound, robbed, $5,080 loot is taken

A Granite City couple was terrorized in their home and cash and items valued at more than $5,000 were stolen by two robbers about 10:40 p.m. Saturday.

Police were summoned to the home of Norman Russell, on Briarwood Lane, a short time after the incident and Russell said he and his wife had been bound and robbed by two men.

Russell said there was a ring at the doorbell and when he opened the door, he saw a man, 29 to 35 years old, standing on the sidewalk near the porch who asked, "Are you Norman Russell?"

When Russell answered in the affirmative, the man opened his jacket, revealing a revolver in a holster and a pair of handcuffs and said he needed to talk to Russell, it was related.

The victim said he started outside to talk to the man, but the man said he would prefer to talk inside. They went to the kitchen where the man allegedly held a gun to Russell's head and ordered him to call his wife from the rear of the home.

They were ordered to lie on the kitchen floor, face down and not to look around or they would be shot. The in-

Sunken sewer to be replaced

The Granite City Street Department was scheduled to begin today on long-needed repairs to a sewer near a catch basin at Ball Street and Mitchell Avenue which has been accumulating raw sewage and has been causing an unpleasant odor and potential health hazard in the area.

Superintendent of Streets Lionel Portell told the city council at its last meeting that sewage from Granite City High School North has been collecting in the five-year-old catch basin causing "a stench. And it's going to get worse this summer," unless it is repaired, he predicted.

Portell said about 183 feet of sewer line which sank shortly after it was installed below the water table about 1975 will need to be replaced.

"Basically," he explained, "a sewer pipe put in by the Finis Ernest firm under contract with the city fell in before it was backfilled and the water table was so high, we just put an underground bypass line in to the manhole.

higher than the sewer, so the sewage has to gather in the manhole 2½ to 3 feet before it reaches the level of the pipe. What we propose doing is to go in and install a lower pipe and eliminate a problem we've had for years.

"The repair work should take about a week and it will take quite a bit longer to repair the street," Portell added.

The repair work will cost about $5,000 for materials, with street department employees doing the work. He said about $3,000 is available from the disaster reimbursement fund and asked for $2,000 from the general fund to do the work.

He stressed that the work should be done now, since the dry fall and winter have allowed the groundwater table to drop. Waiting until the water table rises may make expensive dewatering of the ground necessary to repair the sewer, he added.

Bypass pumping of the sewage 24 hours each day will be necessary during the repairs, Portell told the council. He said Friday he was having some difficulty hiring the union men to do the work.

the round-the-clock pumping, but expected to have the problem solved by today.

TAKING SHAPE. The 19th Street overpass between West Granite and the downtown area became more than just pillars late last week as crews began installing giant steel beams which will form the roadbed. When the structural steel is in place in about four weeks, the concrete road surface can be poured. The placement of the steel beams on the concrete supports marks the halfway point in the construction schedule.

Two hurt in Route 3 crash

Two young men were injured when the autos of Clara Jordan, 27, Berkeley, Mo., and James Heller, 19, Florissant, Mo., were involved in an accident on Route 3 north of St. Thomas Road at 1:50 a.m. Saturday. According to official reports, the engine of Clara Jordan's northbound car stalled and the car stopped on the roadway. She left to get help and the stopped auto was struck by Heller's northbound car. The stalled car was pushed off the east side of the roadway, into a drainage ditch, and continued onto the lawn of New Hope Baptist Church, damaging part of the lawn.

Clara Jordan was issued a ticket alleging improper parking on a controlled access highway. Taken by a Granite City ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center were Heller and a passenger in his car, Robert Herron, 21, Florissant. Heller suffered pain to his right knee and Herron suffered abrasions and cuts to his forehead and face. Both were released after treatment. Another passenger in the car escaped injury.

Charged with aiming gun at tavern owner

Randy R. Hayes, 30, of 2145 E. 24th St., was arrested in the Den, 2401 State St., 9:35 p.m. Saturday and faces four state charges for allegedly bringing a loaded shotgun into the tavern and pointing it at the owner, Wilkie Williams. Williams told police that a man believed to be Hayes first entered the tavern about 9 p.m. Saturday and said he was looking for a local man. Williams said that man was not in the tavern and the man thought to be Hayes was looking for a man he was seeking. He returned about 9:35 p.m. carrying a shotgun pointed toward the ceiling. Williams alleged and contended Hayes laid the shotgun on the bar aimed at Williams. Williams pushed the barrel of the shotgun down behind the bar and two customers, Bob Hughes and John Ingham, wrestled the young man to the floor and held him until police arrived, it was related.

Police found that the shotgun was loaded and Hayes had four more live shotgun shells in his jacket pocket. He was taken to the Granite City jail and was charged with aggravated assault, disorderly conduct, unlawful use of a weapon and failure to have a firearm owner's identification card, all in state charges. The 12-gauge automatic shotgun and seven shells were held for evidence. Officers questioned Hayes and alleged that he told him the man he was seeking owed him $1,000 and he was trying to collect it. Hayes was placed in a jail cell, but officers said he became very upset in jail, so he was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center and was transferred to an Alton hospital where he was ordered held for police. His bond was set at $337 cash.

Commended for rescue

Coast Guard Radarman and Class Philip W. Macias, whose wife, Judy, is the daughter of William B. and Judy Bain of Mitchell, has been awarded the Coast Guard Unit Commendation. He received the award for service as a crew member aboard the Coast Guard cutter Boutwell during the rescue of 520 persons from the stricken Dutch cruise ship Prinsendam in October 1980. The Prinsendam caught fire off the Alaskan coast and the Boutwell, homeported in Seattle, Wash., assisted in the rescue operations in which the total crew and passenger complement was saved. The Boutwell recently departed on an Alaskan fisheries patrol which will last about two months. During the patrol, the Boutwell will maintain surveillance over foreign fishing fleets and conduct law enforcement boarding within the 200-mile limit to ensure compliance with the Fisheries Conservation and Management Act. Macias joined the Coast Guard in July 1979.

Arrest women in disturbance

Victoria L. Turcott, 24, of 2134 Benton St., and Carol L. Morris, 21, of 1620 Maple St., were arrested during a disturbance at Carol Morris' home at 11:15 p.m. Friday and were lodged in jail. Police were called to the home and Debbie Brandon, one of the occupants, alleged that Alan and Victoria Turcott came to her home and with her and her guests and Victoria yelled obscenities and refused to leave. Police arrived and officers alleged that Carol Morris used obscenities, threatened Victoria Turcott and ignored warnings to be quiet. Both were charged with disorderly conduct. At the police station, officers alleged finding a gas gun and gas pellet in Victoria Turcott's purse and charged her with unlawful use of a weapon.

FIND STOLEN TRUCK

The 1978 pickup truck of Jim McCann, 2409 O'Hare Ave., stolen April 6, 1979, from his home, was found outside of Collinsville near Lebanon Road, local authorities were notified Friday. The vehicle had been stripped of all valuable parts, authorities said.

College board to meet in GC

The Belleville Area College board of trustees will hold its next monthly meeting—scheduled for the evening of Wednesday, March 18—at the Granite City School Board office, 20th and Adams streets. The meeting is to use the meeting site given by the Granite City board last week.

An organizational meeting for an early childhood instructional group will be held March 17 at the Logan School portable classroom. Frohardt School Cub Scout Pack 22 will use the Nameoki gymnasium March 18 for a yearly "pinewood derby," a race between miniature cars created by the cubs.

The Emerson School PTA will use the Emerson gymnasium for a school carnival March 20 from 5 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. Approval was given for possible use of the GCHS South auditorium at 7:30 p.m. March 13 for a mayor candidate debate "if they request it." Daniel Partney, one of the candidates, has been making arrangements for the proposed event and submitted a request.

Mitchell volunteer firemen will utilize the GCHS North gymnasium April 3 for a benefit basketball game. Proceeds will be donated by the fire department to Mitchell School for purchase of gymnasium equipment. Also using the North gym will be the Granite City Wrestling Club, which plans an east vs. west all-star wrestling meet March 18. The School Board last week adopted a petition and resolution, finalizing its Dec. 16 decision to end the Granite City school district's connection with the J. B. Johnson Career Development Center administered by the Alton school district.

The original agreement to participate was made in 1971 but Granite City has never sent students to the Johnson Center for instructional purposes. The withdrawal will be effective at the beginning of the next school fiscal year July 1.

Granite City board and administrative staff will be represented at three Illinois Association of School Boards meetings, including a Southwestern IASB Division governing committee session Wednesday in Belleville. A student discipline and search and seizure legal workshop planned for Thursday at Effingham is in cooperation with the Illinois principals Association, and a similar cooperative workshop on contract management Wednesday at SIUE.

The GCHS South Social Studies Club under the sponsorship of Phillip Shatt will make its annual spring trip April 11-19 (the scheduled Easter holidays) to Hawaii, with part of the cost raised through sale of citrus fruits, frozen pizzas and snacks. Ten adults will accompany the students. Among the 10 will be two faculty members whose expenses will be paid by the club.

"This is the only club making a trip of any distance," Supr. B. J. Davis told the board. "Other clubs go to such areas as Chicago, Kansas City and the Ozarks. This club's annual trips date back before 1973 and they have traveled to New Orleans, Washington, D. C., the Caribbean and Hawaii."

Bill McClard, Illinois State Board of Education educational consultant for program planning and development, advised Supr. Davis by letter that during the fall semester he worked with C. A. MacMillan, executive director, and the staff of Coordinated Youth Services.

"It is my job to assist alternative educational programs in program planning and development," McClard related.

"I have been very impressed by the hard work of the part of Mr. MacMillan and the staff of CYSS and their efforts to insure that students at the Granite City Alternative School receive a quality program.

learning style of the individual student.

"The purpose is to insure that the content is consistent with the goals of your regular classes. The long hours of work are now paying dividends in the form of a true alternative school with a sound basis for issuing credit through your school."

"You and the other school administrators involved in offering an alternative for high-risk students are to be commended. Three high school students, Sharon Ann Henke of South and Tina Lynn Davis and Julia R. Downing, both of North, have been chosen to take part in a student archeological trip to Kansas City, Mo., April 12-17. They will study and participate in excavations, reconstruction, artifact history and site geography while working alongside professional archeologists. Participation in the Kampsville program is restricted to superior high school science students.

District-wide attendance for January was the lowest for the 1980-81 year, 88.9 percent, a report showed. Winning books written by young authors have been sent to the Language Experience Interest Council for exhibit during a May 2 contest.

Judged as the top authors were: grade two, Amy Isom of Niederhagen and Kelly Green of Frohardt School; grade four, Richard Harmon of Niederhagen and Melodee Groves of Melodee; grade five, Phil McRaven of Niederhagen; Christy Dawson of Nameoki and Melissa Cooper of Maryville School; and grade six, Richard Timmons of Frohardt, Eric Johnson of Webster and Stacey Stoyanoff of Lake School.

Announcements will be made in the schools of a Dabetic Children's Welfare Association bike-a-thon May 2 and a Cystic Fibrosis bike-a-thon May 16. At a cost not to exceed $1,300, the school district will purchase 326 pins with chain bars and an additional 217 chain bars for presentation to students qualifying for awards from the Granite City Independent Reading Committee.

This is the fourth year that the independent reading program has been in operation here, with 411 students recognized in 1979, another 453 in 1979 and 506 in 1980. An award dinner is being planned.

A change order was approved on Nameoki School boiler work, calling for Grove Plumbing & Heating Co. to provide insulation for a flue pipe at a cost of $1,400. The Quality Mat Refinishing Co. for $8,400 will repair and recoat two wrestling mats at GCHS South and one wrestling mat at GCHS North.

At a cost of $1,415, the IBM Co. will provide two IBM typewriters with interchangeable typing elements.

Industrial education fastening devices will be purchased from Rubelmaier Co. $286, Missouri Bolt Co. $254, Harry's Wall Paper $184 and Bowman Distribution, $27.

DRIVER IS ARRESTED

Jack L. Shelton, 61, of 2437 Wilson Ave., was charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol and with illegal transportation of alcohol after police stopped his car at Terrace Lane and Clark Avenue at 10:35 p.m. Friday. An officer alleged the auto had been swerving from one side of the road to the other at slow speed and an open bottle of whiskey was found in the auto. Under a new policy of the Granite City police in dealing with allegedly intoxicated drivers, Shelton was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center and was transferred at his request by a Granite City ambulance to John Cochran Veterans' Hospital, St. Louis.

DELMAR BURGLARY

Items valued at about $470 were stolen from the home of Kenny Dash, 2305 Delmar Ave., between 10:30 and 11:50 p.m. Friday. There were no signs of forced entry. The victim returned home and found the rear door standing open. Missing items were two shotguns, a tool box and 13 tape recordings and a tape of a home video.

Open house program for elderly persons

The Belleville Area College programs for older persons of Madison County held an open house, with approximately 50 persons attending.

Included in the days activities were tours of the new facility located in the basement of the old McKinley School, refreshments donated by Granite City officials and insights into the Retired Senior Volunteer Program provided by volunteers and Senior Aides. The office has been donated to Belleville Area College by St. Elizabeth's Medical Center.

The Retired Senior Volunteer Program recruits and places persons 60 years of age and older into meaningful volunteer opportunities within their own communities in public or private not-for-profit agencies and organizations and proprietary health care facilities.

The Older Persons office also handles inquiries about Medicare reimbursements and will assist you in filing any of these programs. Quad-Cityans may call 878-3223.

March can bring colds

Illinois Lang

The plague of the "common cold" occurs more often during cold weather, but March can be a risky month for persons exposed to colds. Extremes are the norm in March. Temperatures change quickly, and chilling rains often follow gentle breezes.

Weather variety does not cause colds, but it can increase vulnerability to viruses which do cause colds.

Viruses are minute infectious agents that can't even be seen with a microscope, but which enter body cells, multiply and then cause disease.

Many different kinds of viruses can cause a cold. Over a hundred have been identified. That is why no vaccine has been successful.

There is little anyone can do to avoid infection except hope for the best and stay away from people who have colds. Infants and young children are the most susceptible to colds because they have not yet built up immunity.

When a cold can't be thwarted, grandmother's advice is still good; aspirin, liquids and even chicken

PROGRAM THURSDAY ON MANAGING MONEY Belleville Area College will sponsor a special program on money management and investing Thursday, March 12, from 7 to 10 p.m. The three-hour program, which will include experts from financial organizations in the area, is free to anyone interested in "learning to beat inflation" and to protect his or her financial future.

Participants are being urged to arrive early since the auditorium seats fewer than 300 people, and the most recent program of a similar nature drew a capacity

"I don't know why the jump. Maybe it's because of talk about gun control. People want to get guns before gun control."

Gitcho said he sells more guns to men than women but that a lot of men buy them for their wives.

"One guy bought one last month and said his wife had just been molested the night before."

Build the retirement security you need with a tax-deferred IRA or KEOGH account with Granite City Bank.

If you're not covered at work . . . Put away up to $1500 or up to 15% of your yearly net income (whichever is less) in a tax sheltered retirement fund.

If you're self-employed . . . Put away up to $7500 or up to 15% of your yearly net income (whichever is less) in a tax-sheltered retirement fund.

Either way, the amount you add each year is tax free. And the high interest* we add is tax free, too. You may eventually pay taxes on the money you withdraw, but you'll probably be retired and in a lower tax bracket then.

1980 IRA Contribution may be made up to the date your 1980 Income Tax return is due in 1981.

KEOGH Plans must have been opened by December 31, 1980 to allow 1980 Contribution until 1980 tax due date in 1981.

Gardening in March

By CHRIS DOLL

Area Garden Adviser
Mild weather in late February tended to stimulate gardeners as well as perennial plants.

This stimulation has led to a few garden activities such as pruning and planting, plus signs of growth in some trees and plants. And March is even a better month for gardening.

Fruit growers should consider the following tasks:

—Apply dormant sprays to tree and small fruit crops to control insects and diseases.

—Prune and trim all fruit plants for signs of growth and be prepared to apply early pesticide sprays.

—Prune and trim all fruit plants for signs of growth and be prepared to apply early pesticide sprays.

to a minimum, and to avoid forming another bureaucratic governing layer, Haine emphasized. The basic "politically untenable" problem relates to the county transit district's levying of a quarter-cent sales tax without having a direct voice in how wisely or poorly bus funds are spent, it was explained. The board can suggest routes and decide whether or not to request specific bus service, but it cannot control the elements that affect the cost, such as administrative expenses, types of vehicles, and driver wages.

None at the prayer breakfast voiced opposition to the sales tax when the question was posed to the audience, but many residents are against it, Haine said.

Although the transit board itself is appointed, each member answers to voters; the three are a mayor, a township supervisor and a Madison County Board member, elected in a city, a town and a county district. As a result, each is answerable to the public, and the public is not "sold" on present bus service as provided by Bi-State, Haine said.

He estimated that Madison County has perhaps a year or less in which to achieve an improved level of bus service and to alter the public image of Bi-State. After that, the district's future might be in doubt, he believes.

Meanwhile, public elections are to be held in St. Clair and Monroe counties this spring on whether to continue with present quarter-cent and eighth-cent sales taxes.

Haine reported that opposition to the transit-related sales tax is growing because of the dividing line between areas served by buses and paying the slightly higher sales tax, and other areas lacking bus service, but without such taxation, retailers are concerned about across-the-line competition.

In addition, citizens question the

He stepped man entered, wearing a nylon stocking over his head and white nylon gloves on his hands and went straight to the master bedroom. The first man then donned gloves and ordered Mr. and Mrs. Russell to get up and walk, with their heads down, to a spare bedroom, police were told.

Mrs. Russell convinced the man to allow her to take her small baby and crib into the bedroom with them. The couple then was ordered to lie face down on the floor with their hands behind their heads with silver duct tape, Russell related. Their feet also were tied and their rings and wristwatches were removed.

Russell said he could hear the second man whispering to the first, as though he was directing the robbery from the

In other business, the council speedily passed two annexation ordinances on "a matter of some importance" according to Mayor Paul Schuler. Some observers said the "urgency" was to get the parcels annexed so the residents could be residents of the city 30 days by election day, April 7, thereby qualifying to vote.

Alderman Charles Douglas of the First Ward first made a motion to place the annexations on first reading for final passage at the council's March 17 meeting, but upon learning of the "urgency," he made the motion to forwarding of local and state revenue from Illinois to Missouri, with a St. Louis office staff deciding who to hire and negotiating driver pay that was regarded as excessive, Haine said. He added that the top Bi-State Development Agency executive is provided a car and chauffeur.

Haine commended Bi-State Agency board members, including Carl Mathias of Granite City, and also praised the attitude and expertise of Bi-State Transit Manager William Wilson.

While he came within an eyelash of advocating a severing of ties with Bi-State and the awarding of a bus contract to some other agency or company, Haine said he does not have a closed mind on the subject.

He said the three-member transit board that he heads has decided to take no salaries as board members, and for $4,500 a year has obtained the services of an experienced transit adviser "worth ten times that amount."

He commented, "I'm a Democrat, but we're being conservative in our approach that we could be accused of all being moss-back conservatives."

He said that the combination of existing laws allows little leverage for the Madison County Mass Transit Board in determining where to obtain bus service; Bi-State is the only one designated as eligible to receive sales tax revenue.

The possibility of revised legislation is under discussion, including allowing for more than one potential provider and possibly a different makeup for the transit board, Haine related.

"But we are not holding up any money for Bi-State and we are working with them fully to obtain the kind of bus service that the people want," he added.

Introduced at the breakfast by Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler, another transit board member, Haine presented his views and then answered

Russell gave him the key and he removed a 12-gauge shotgun, a .44 magnum automatic weapon, a .22-caliber automatic rifle with a scope and several boxes of used brass shells, it was related.

After searching the remainder of the house and stacking numerous items by a door, the first robber returned to the spare bedroom and informed the bound couple that he would leave the victim's house keys in the mailbox and would call a neighbor to come and release them, Russell said, noting he then gave the robbers the telephone number of a neighbor to call.

THEFT FROM RAILROAD ALLEGED
Leo M. Desk, 23, of 2716 National Ave., was charged with the theft after police alleged finding iron stolen from the Norfolk & Western Railroad in his pickup truck at 6:30 a.m. Saturday.

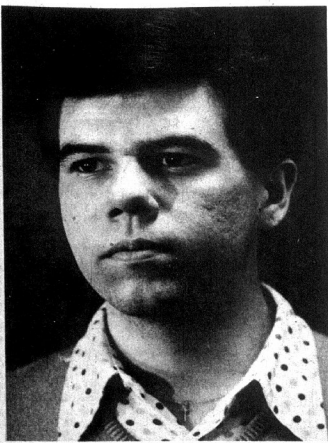

An officer on patrol saw a pickup truck with a door open north of the N&W yard near the tracks. A young man was seen running from the truck to the side of the building and then throwing something into the truck. He then got in the driver's seat and drove north at a high rate of speed onto Wilson Park Drive to St. Paul Street and then to Idaho Avenue.

Police stopped the truck on Idaho at Troy Avenue and alleged finding 28 iron railroad tie plates and four iron angle bars in the bed of the truck. The iron was valued at $88, railroad officials said.

Indians, Trojans ready for showdown

By PETE HAYES

Sports Editor of the Press-Record
BRIDGEPORT — It's been a year since they last met, but Lawrenceville and Madison haven't forgotten.

It was in the 1980 Charleston Super-Sectional that the entire basketball populace of Illinois first learned to recognize the name of Patrick Joe Hatter. It was also then that Lawrenceville, the 1972 and 1974 state champion, forgot the meaning of the words "free throw."

Madison came from behind the tie the score in the final (tie) against Lawrenceville and went on to a victory in overtime in last year's Super-Sectional. The Trojans eventually finished fourth at the State Finals in Champaign.

To reach the long-

Indians' Felling

awaited rematch, the second-ranked Trojans (26-2) had to beat unbeaten Bunker Hill 62-45 at Vandalia's Sectional and Lawrenceville (29-2) downed likewise undefeated Martinsville 75-62 at Bridgeport (see related stories). How do the two teams match up this season?

"We'll have to play better than we've ever played," said Lawrenceville's long-time coach Ron Felling. "Madison is extremely quick and will pressure our guards. I just hope our kids aren't scared of them. After all, we outplayed them 31 minutes last year, missed (three) one-and-one the last minute in regulation and lost the game."

In that game, the Trojans of coach Larry Graham resorted to fouling the Indians in hopes of getting the rebound off missed free throws and converting. That was exactly what happened. "Larry told me later that he was ready to pack it up," said Felling. "He said their only alternative was to foul us."

"Whoever wins has a lot to look forward to," joked Felling, referring to the fact that the Charleston Super-Sectional winner will most likely face top-ranked Providence-New Lenox in the first quarterfinal game at the State Finals in Champaign.

Both Felling and Graham have been there before. Graham is hoping to make his third straight and fourth overall appearance at the Class A State Finals and repeat his team's championship showing of 1976. Felling is hoping for his team's fourth appearance as well.

"You know, we haven't really thought about Madison," said Felling.

"We've been worried about getting out of our regional and sectional."

Each team has two losses on its record—and each was to a tough Class AA school. Madison fell to Edwardsville and St. Louis McKinley. Lawrenceville lost by two points to Effingham and 7-2 Uwe Blab and by one point to Danville.

After beating Bunker Hill Friday night, Madison's Graham said, "They (Lawrenceville) has got to feel pretty good about playing us. We won in overtime last year, but they were beating except for the very end."

"This year's (Madison) team has as much talent as the rest of them, including the year we won state. But so have a lot of them that have gotten better."

It's money time now. It's time to go. The kids really want to play.

"We'll show up."

Lawrenceville is led by the one-two punch of junior all-stater Greg Novsek and sophomore Marty Simmons. Novsek, a 6-4 forward playing with an injured left hand, scored 15 points against Martinsville Friday. Simmons, a 6-2 forward, scored 25. The Indians also got 21 from sophomore Tim Leighty, a 6-2 forward. Other starters are guards Vince Montgomery (6-2) and Rick Campbell (5-10).

Madison's Hatter, who did in the Indians' hopes last season, said, "The difference between our team this year and last year's team is that everybody is doing something. Last year, we had one guy scoring and one rebounding and one guy making assists. Now everybody is scoring, everybody is rebounding. It's a team effort."

Fellow Trojan Charles

Claggett summed up the team's feelings about Lawrenceville. "They'll play with us for the first half," he said. "But after that, it'll be all Madison."

Felling said he's sure Madison won't underestimate his team. "I'm sure Larry won't let his team underestimate anybody," he said. "We sure aren't underestimating them."

Then, in typical Fellingese, he said, "I just hope we can get are boys on the bus to make the trip."

Madison second half means Sweet Sixteen

VANDALIA — A year ago, Bunker Hill's bid to reach Champaign and the state basketball tournament was cut short when it ran into Madison. At the Vandalia Class A Sectional Tournament here Friday, Bunker Hill, once again, tried and failed.

The Minutemen even came into the game with an impressive 26-0 record and Madison knew what it was in for. But, a resounding second half performance by the Trojans turned a nip and tuck contest into an easy 62-45 victory for Madison and another sectional crown.

The Trojans' win sets up another showdown. Moving on to the Charleston Super-Sectional Tuesday, Madison (26-2) will face the Lawrenceville Indians (28-2) in a re-match of last year's thriller. The Trojans took that game in overtime, 74-68. The Indians won the right to play Madison as they beat

Hatter, Hughes power Trojans past Bunker Hill

Martinsville in the championship of the Bridgeport Sectional (see related story).

If anyone thought it was to meet Lawrenceville, Bunker Hill felt it should be the ones. The Minutemen were ready for Madison and let it know during their semi-final game against Trenton-Wesclin. "They were ready for us," said Madison's Pat Hatter. "I knew they would be out to get us for last year. They were even yelling 'We want Madison' in the stands Wednesday. We just took it to them."

And Hatter dealt a big hand in the Bunker Hill downfall. The Minutemen knew what they had to do and for three quarters they didn't let Madison out of their grasp.

"It didn't bother us being 26-0," said Bunker Hill head coach Jim Hlaska. "We wanted to play Madison and we accomplished what we wanted to do."

Despite a fine 56 percent shooting touch by the Trojans in the first half, Bunker Hill took full advantage of 12 Madison turnovers. With the lead changing hands 11 times, Bunker Hill fought back from a 26-19 deficit and took the lead with five seconds left in the second quarter. Doug Sauerwein spearheaded the Minutemen attack as the southpaw drilled in 17 points in the first half.

"Bunker Hill is a good shooting team," said Trojan head coach Larry Graham.

"They are a lot better than they were last year. We just made some careless mistakes."

A patient offense and some fine passing by Bunker Hill gave Madison all it could handle. "They took it away from us last year in the first half and we came back," said Hlaska. "And the second half is usually our best half."

Bunker Hill found out how things change. The Minutemen had to feel it as a bad omen when Sauerwein, who was so deadly in the first half, went absolutely cold in the third quarter. "They (Madison) kept switching defenses," said Hlaska. "We got the ball

Lawrenceville ousts unbeaten Martinsville

By PETE HAYES

BRIDGEPORT — Whatever guardian angels have been smiling down on Lawrenceville coach Ron Felling these many years kept right on smiling here Friday night.

Lawrenceville overcame a previously undefeated Martinsville team in the championship game of the Bridgeport Class A Sectional 75-62 and will travel to Charleston Tuesday for a Super-Sectional showdown with Madison.

But Lawrenceville's victory wasn't exactly sealed at the outset. In fact, Martinsville (28-0) was in top form to send the Indians packing. Felling admitted he thought he was having a return nightmare of 1973. "Yes, I'd have to say it entered my mind," said Felling of his team's 1973 sectional final upset loss to upstart Marshall, which eventually fell to Venice at the Charleston Super-Sectional.

Of the 32 minutes of basketball played Friday night, it all boiled down to three seconds. After trailing the entire first half, Lawrenceville took the lead with three seconds to go in the second quarter on a three-point play by Tim Leighty (pronounced Leest-ee), 6-2 brother of former Lawrenceville all-stater Rick Leighty and 1972 center Joe Leighty.

Lawrenceville had trailed 30-24 but ended up leading at halftime 33-30. Martinsville showed early that its unblemished record was no fluke. The Blue Streaks unleashed hot-shooting all-state guard Greg Lauritzen and took early command of the show. Then Felling switched defensive assignments on Lauritzen. He put All-Stater Greg Novsek on Lauritzen. His left hand and in a betting glove because of a Wednesday practice injury, Novsek overplayed him and held him to a mere one basket in an eight-minute stretch in the second and third quarters. At the same time, Leighty went wild offensively. After Lawrenceville tied the game 30-30 and kept Martinsville from rebounding the ball 28 seconds before halftime, he took a pass from Novsek and mad egoed on the three-point play. The Indians' three-point intermission lead was in part due to a referee's decision that Bryan Daugherty's 75-foot basket at the buzzer was no good.

Both Felling and Martinsville head coach Steve Bennett agreed that the last 30 seconds of the first half became the turning point. "I thought the basket (by Daugherty) was good," said Bennett. "But the ref said he took the ball, stopped, drew his arm back and then heaved the ball. But he didn't. He just took the pass and let it fly."

"But the refs have to do their job."

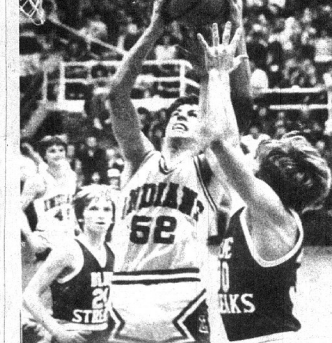

Martinsville didn't exactly roll over and play dead for Lawrenceville in the second half. But it was obvious to most everyone in the gym by midway through the third quarter that it would be Lawrenceville's red and white traveling to Lantz Gym in Charleston Tuesday and not Martinsville's blue and white.

"We didn't want Tim to get tired or pick up a third foul," said Felling. "So we went to Doug, who he showed more experience."

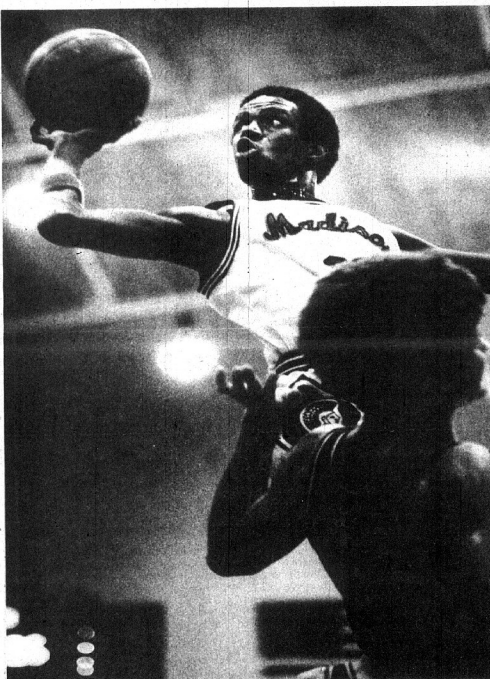

"That left Tim free to go get the ball. And he showed that old Leighty competitive spirit. We brought Novsek outside to get them to bring their zone out, which made it

Steamers lose in final ticks to fired-up Blast

Special to the Press-Record

BALTIMORE — A late goal by Baltimore's Ade Coker lifted the Blast to a 5-4 victory over the St. Louis Steamers here last night in Major Indoor Soccer League action. It was the final regular season game for both teams.

Coker scored the goal with only 36 seconds remaining in the game. Baltimore had to come from behind to win the game. At one point in the fourth quarter, the Blast trailed 4-3. It was a power play goal.

Temper flared during the game, which was played before a sellout crowd of over 10,000 at the Baltimore Civic Center. A fight in the fourth period, started by both benches and caused Steamer Steve Pecher and Baltimore's Val DeSouza were ejected from the game. It started when DeSouza was tackled in front of the Steamer goal. As he got up, he punched Pecher in the face. At that point, both benches emptied.

The Steamers, who finished the regular season as Central Division champions with a 25-15 record, jumped out to an early 1-0 lead when Greg Villa scored on a pass from Emilio John. That lead became 2-0 just a little over two minutes later when Mal Roche scored off an assist from teammate

Tony Glavin. However, Baltimore's Laszlo Harsanyi made it 2-1 before the end of the first quarter. Baltimore fought back and tied the score in the third period at 3-3 on a goal by Paul Crowley at the 2:37 mark. But 16 seconds later, Steamer Steve Sullivan put his team back on top

Illini get NCAA playoff berth

CHAMPAIGN — The University of Illinois, ranked 14th in the nation, received a bid to the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) post-season basketball tournament here yesterday.

Illinois, which finished the season with a 20-7 record and a third place finish in the tough Big Ten Conference, received a first round bye. The Illini were 2-1 against non-conference foes. The Illini will play the winner of Wyoming-Howard game in the West Regional. Should they win that game, they'll most likely face Oregon State in the regional semifinals. Seeded teams in the West Regional are: 1.Oregon State, 2.North Carolina, 3.Utah, 4.Illinois.

The University of Missouri also received a bid to the tournament and will play Lamar in the first round. The NCAA Finals will be held March 28 and 30 in Philadelphia.

The stopping of Hughes in the Bunker Hill game certainly opened things up for Hatter. But here again, Morris took the cool approach. "I wasn't worried about it," said Hughes. "We had four other players on the court."

It only helped Hatter live up to his all-state ability. "This is the first good ball game he (Hatter) has had in a long time," said Trojan head coach Larry Graham. "He shot the ball real well."

As far as where Hatter stands with the rest of the past Madison greats, Graham wouldn't commit himself. "He does some things real well," said Graham. "We were where we rated pretty high in the state polls. I guess somebody had to be on the all-state team."

The other members on the team, who were selected in balloting by coaches, spotwriters and sports casters, included 6-9 Walter Downing from New Lenox Providence. The senior was named a 10 vote-getter and the third time he has been named to the team.

Pierre Cooper, a 6-8 senior, and Mike Conley, a 6-0 senior, both from Danz Lawton, South, joined Doug Novsek, a 6-4 junior from Lawrenceville on the first team.

THE THRILL OF VICTORY

Madison players cut down the nets and rejoice after they handed Bunker Hill's Minutemen their first defeat of the season Friday night in the championship game of the Vandalia Class A

Sectional Tournament. Madison, ranked second in the state, will face Lawrenceville, ranked third, in the Charleston Super-Sectional at Eastern Illinois University Tuesday night at 7:30 for the right to advance to the "Elite Eight."

Pinckneyville advances with win over Okawville

SPARTA — It'll be Pinckneyville against Cairo in Tuesday's Carbondale Class A Super-Sectional, thanks to a heart-stopping victory by Pinckneyville over Okawville in the championship game of the Marion Sectional Friday night.

Pinckneyville ran its record to 29-3 with a 63-62 victory over the Rockets. Okawville finished its season at 27-5.

Cairo, meanwhile, had an easier time of it. The Pilots thumped out-manned Eldorado 94-61 in the championship game at the Benton Sectional.

In Pinckneyville's victory, the Panthers found themselves with the ball with 1:55 remaining and Okawville clinging to a 62-61 lead. Two Pinckneyville players had already fouled out.

Father head coach Dick Carr called timeout with 50 seconds remaining after his team had held the ball for over a minute.

With 22 seconds left, Pinckneyville's Van Craig fired a 20-footer from the left baseline that bounced off the front of the rim into the hands of teammate Tim Place who put the ball in for the winning points with 19 seconds remaining.

The Rockets played for a winning basket of their own, but a charging foul on Paul Jansen with three seconds remaining doused all Okawville hopes.

Pinckneyville shot 46 percent from the floor (23-of-50). Okawville shot 53 percent (27-of-51). But the Panthers were able to convert the free throws. Pinckneyville was an amazing 17-of-19 from the free throw line.

Pinckneyville led 55-50 going into the fourth quarter, but was outscored by the Rockets 12-8 in the final period.

In other Class A Sectional finals around the state, Providence-New Lenox, ranked first in the state, got through a slow-down game with Timothy Christian 47-38 to win the Aurora Sectional; defending state champion Luther South beat Ottowa Marquette 35-34 in the championship at Herscher; and Pana beat Stonington 83-73 at Shelbyville.

Netters suffer in Division I

BELLEVILLE — Coach Kent DeMars' Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville tennis team demolished Murray State University 9-0 Saturday night at the Oak Hill Racquet Club in Belleville.

The victory ran the Cougars' tennis dual meet record to 2-0 and served as a warm-up for their tougher challenge Thursday through Sunday at Little Rock, Ark.

Arkansas' Razorback Invitational Tournament. Last year Coach Bennie Purcell's Murray netters defeated SIUE, 5-4. This year, Murray is the defending champion of the Ohio Valley Conference.

It is even more impressive when it is pointed out that the Murray lineup that the Cougars whitewashed Saturday is the same that edged the Cougars last season.

Saturday's results: Hugo Nunez, SIUE, beat Mats Ljungman, 7-5, 6-4; Ken Flach, SIUE, beat Tergie Persson, 6-2, 6-2; Doug Burke, SIUE, beat Finn Swarthling, 6-2, 6-1; Raimo O'Jala, SIUE, beat Mike Costigan, 6-2, 6-2; Jonna Leppanen, SIUE, beat Erik Tishhammer, 6-3, 6-2; and Marc Slusny, SIUE, beat Steve Willy, 6-2, 6-0 in doubles. Highway budgets posted Quad-City township highway commissioners have posted new tentative 1981-82 budgets for public inspection and plan public hearings on the budget figures Tuesday, March 31. In all instances the townships plan 7 p.m. hearings in their respective town halls.

The largest combined highway budget has been posted by Nameoki township, projecting expenditures of $263,951, an increase of $6,432 over last year's total of $257,499.

The tentative Nameoki township highway budget includes $142,708 in the road and bridge fund, $104,070 in the permanent hard road fund, $176 in the construction of bridges fund and $17,000 in the municipal retirement fund account.

These compare to $141,728 in the road and bridge fund last year, $92,987 in the hard road account, $162 in the construction of bridges fund and $22,742 in the municipal retirement fund.

Nameoki's road and bridge fund includes $49,634 for administration, $30,500 for construction and $25,600 for maintenance.

For Venice township, the new highway budget which projects funds only in one account—the road and bridge fund—provides a total of $33,611, compared to $33,716 last year.

Projected expenditures include $4,460 for administration, compared to $4,350 a year ago, and a total of $27,945 in maintenance, supplies and oiling. A sum of $1,000 is provided for contingencies.

Chouteau township's tentative budget projects total expenditures of $220,705, including $87,582 in the road and bridge fund, $96,125 in the permanent hard road fund, $25,900 in the equipment fund and $12,000 in the municipal retirement fund.

Last year the township budgeted $92,580 in the road and bridge, $70,415 in the hard road account, $15,000 in the equipment fund and $9,500 in the municipal retirement account.

Among items in the road and bridge budget are $37,500 for road maintenance, $16,580 for administration, $25,500 for equipment and $1,000 for contingencies.

The budget will remain posted at the offices of the three townships during the remainder of March pending the hearings and board action.

Granite City has no township road budget because boundaries of the township are coextensive with those of the city and road work is done by the city.

Summer jobs through SIUE

Applications for summer jobs in the 1981 Youth Conservation Corps program at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will be available until March 15 for area young people between the ages of 15 and 18.

A total of 18 young men and 18 young women will go to work in various outdoor conservation projects on and around the Edwardsville campus during June and July under a cooperative program sponsored by the Illinois Department of Conservation and the U.S. Departments of the Interior and Agriculture.

Robert Williams, director of the $63,000 YCC project, said students will be selected at random by zip code numbers from applications received in the federal YCC center in Virginia before the March 15 deadline. Forms are available from all area high school counselors or from Williams by calling 618-692-3082.

Plans this year call for development of city parks in Edwardsville, including restoration of Springer's Woods and Lusk Park; upgrading of fishing lakes, an overgrown farm, bike and nature trails, prairie sites and recreational areas on the campus; and possible help with a continuing survey of private and inactive cemeteries in Madison County.

"We want to work on projects that will open up the environment and the local history to all the people for recreation, field study or conservation education," Williams said.

All labor for the June 8 through July 31 programs will come from the teenagers, who will earn $3.35 an hour for 30 hours a week. They will get 10 hours of education and recreation a week, including a canoe trip on the Meramec River and a day of exploring inside Mammoth Cave in Kentucky.

The applications will also be used to fill jobs at other work sites in Illinois, including projects pending approval in Grafton, Granite City, Carlinville, Belleville, Alton and East St. Louis.

CHRIST PASHOFF

and has provided many services for the residents, he explained. Some of these include bus trips for school children and senior citizens, installation of street lighting, providing equipment for the street departments of Madison and Venice and free eye exams to senior citizens.

"Helping the Venice Township Citizens to enjoy better living is my prime objective," said Pashoff.

WILLIAM BOELLING

William P. Boelling, 24, is the independent candidate for Venice Township Supervisor.

Boelling is self-employed as a washer-dryer repairman. He was born in Granite City and has resided in the Quad-Cities all of his life. He is a member of the Moose Lodge.

"I intend to change the Township office, back to the purpose it was established for: to provide emergency help to whoever needs it," said Boelling. He also feels that "open meetings are the key to honest and reliable government."

Boelling lives at 600 Washington Ave., in Venice. He is single.

Wants to waive inspection of late-model pickup trucks

State Rep. Everett G. Steele (R-Glen Carbon) has introduced legislation which would waive inspection requirements for late-model pickup trucks in Illinois.

Referring to the increased use and popularity of pickup trucks in recent years, Steele said, "The light-duty truck has become a second car in many families, used often for going to and from work, and primarily for passenger use. It is unfair, and unrealistic," he continued, "to require owners of brand new or late model light-duty vehicles to continue to pay this unnecessary cost in both time and money, every six months."

The Steele Legislation, known as House Bill 469, exempts Class A or B vehicles that are three years old or less, according to model year, from the Illinois Inspection law requiring inspections twice yearly.

The cost of inspections is usually $12 or more per year. The State of Illinois does not receive any portion of the inspection fee. Under the proposed legislation, inspection requirements would remain for older pickup trucks, and for all trucks over the 1-ton model style.

The Madison County legislator pointed out that no inspections are required for camper-type vehicles with recreational vehicle license plates. All recreational vehicles are exempt from the inspection law at the present time.

"This legislation is in my view," Steele said, "is another attempt to remove unnecessary government regulations, and to use a 'common sense' approach in matters which affect the working public."

Area sales tax in first half of 1980 is $938,388

Quad-City area cities and villages received a total of $938,388 in sales tax allotments from the state during the first six months of 1980, according to a report by the Illinois Department of Revenue.

The report showed that Granite City received the bulk of the tax allotments, a total of $806,676 for the period. Collections of Granite City sales tax money amounted to $398,546 during the first quarter of the year, and $408,130 for the second quarter, the report showed.

In addition to the allotments, Madison received a total of $82,280 for the six-month period. These included $37,367 during the first quarterly period and $45,923 during the three months of the second quarter.

Venice received a total of $16,112 which was made up of collections of $7,966 during the first quarter and $8,146 during the second quarter.

Collections for Pontoon Beach amounted to a total of $33,320, which included $16,841 for the first quarter and $16,739 for the second quarter of the year.

For the Madison County area of Madison County, collections for the first six months amounted to a total of $770,273 which included $370,891 during the first quarter and $400,382 in the second.

Course for older drivers

An NRTA-AARP mature driving course, developed specially for older drivers, will be offered in Granite City, for the first time on March 30 and 31 at 2:30 p.m. on the Granite City RAC campus at West 20th Street and Nevada Avenue, sponsored by AARP Chapter 1340, Inc.

This is the most important course for drivers 55 and over. It not only teaches Rules of the Road but is the first course that includes age-related changes, such as eyes, hearing, reflex action, and medications, among other things that determine our ability to drive safely. It is open to all Illinois licensed drivers 55 and older. The main purpose of this educational program is to keep drivers over 55 driving as effectively as possible for as long as they wish to drive a motor vehicle.

Transportation assisted the associations to evaluate this new drivers program. Judges of the traffic courts in several states are recommending 55 alive-mature as a referral course for older traffic violators. New York which has passed a discount clause for auto insurance, for drivers 55 and over, who take 55 alive-mature driving or other approved courses.

The class is limited to 20 persons who must attend both days to complete the course. There is a $3 fee to help offset cost. NRTA-AARP subsidizes the remaining cost.

Vernice E. Walter, assistant state coordinator, will moderate the class. To enroll Quad-Cityans may call 876-3748.

Petrillo, Hebert in race for treasurer of Granite

An active campaign is expected for the post of treasurer of Granite City between now and the April 7 election.

Candidates are the current treasurer Nick Petrillo, 62, of 2201 Monroe St., and William T. Hebert, 38, of 2219 Delmar Ave., a former Granite City fireman and owner of Word Properties Investments Co.

Petrillo has the backing of the incumbent ticket, headed by Mayor Paul Schulz, and Hebert is running on the same ticket with mayor candidate Dan Partney.

Petrillo is a lifelong resident of Granite City and was the produce manager for Gordon's Market before going into business for himself as Petrillo Produce. He had 30 years in the produce business.

He graduated from local schools and has attended several seminars on budgeting, accounting and related skills.

He is active in numerous groups, including St. Joseph Catholic Church, the Knights of Columbus, the World War II veterans group, the American Legion, the Moose Lodge, the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, the Optimist Club, the Rotary Club and the Granite City High School South Boosters Club.

He is past president of the Italian-American Club and the Granite City Democratic Club, has been the chairman of Press Box at South High, was one of the organizers of the soccer and baseball complex on Fehling Road and his company has sponsored numerous teams, including bowling, football and men's and women's softball teams. He and his wife, Flora, have three sons. Nicholas Petrillo is a teacher at South High. Gerald Jay Petrillo is employed by Illinois Power, and Donald Ray Petrillo is a patrolman on the Granite City Police Department. They also have four grandchildren.

NICK PETRILLO

Petrillo says, "With four years experience in the city government—such as collecting air pollution, the overpass bonds, fire and police pension funds, sewer bill collecting, ambulance service collections, tax collections and disbursements—I feel I am qualified to better serve the public than my opponent."

He studied math at Florida State University for two years and studied accounting at Belleville Area College. He also has attended the St. Louis Extension of the Freed Hardeman Bible College. Hebert is an active member of the Church of Christ.

He served on the Granite City Firemen's Pension Board for six years, the last year as the president, and in 1977, he served as secretary of Firefighters' Local 253. He also has been the treasurer of the Christian Parents' Transportation Club and secretary-treasurer of Freed Hardeman College.

He and his wife, Miriam, have two daughters, Lisa and Kimberly.

Hebert says his objectives in seeking the office of treasurer are that, "The city's financial picture is very dismal. Part of the reason has to be attributed to the treasurer's office. If elected, I will help change this by full and complete financial information to the aldermen, actively seeking new monies and using the monies we have to their best advantage."

International Conference of Daily Newspapers'Satisfying everyone' has dimmed American dream by cheapening wages, causing ruinous interest rates

Budget comments by Illinois Governor James R. Thompson — Our revenues, battered by the winds of national recession, are down for the first seven months of the current year. Corporate income tax receipts are down 10 percent; sales tax receipts are down 2½ percent; and individual income tax receipts are up just 7 percent, well below the average of recent years. Unemployment has averaged over 9 percent for the period.

Second, recession has forced state spending up. State government, therefore, must apply the brakes and cut back growth in expenditures across a whole variety of programs to meet revenue declines.

New programs must be postponed or canceled. State employment must be forced down. Expenditures too casually labeled as uncontrollable must be re-examined.

Our first priority must be to make sure that no resident of our state goes without food, clothing, shelter or essential medical services. For young or old, black, white or brown, educated or ignorant, urban or rural — these are the basic needs of a compassionate people — which we are — regard them, and rightly, as basic human rights.

This is not to say that waste, fraud, negligence or error cannot be wrung from the application of our compassion. They can be. This is not to say that we cannot separate needs from wants. We must.

It is to say, however, that when men, women and children, without fault, come to our door and ask for our help to fend off hunger, cold and disease, we must help. This budget does so. There is a clear delineation between spending for needs — up sharply in recession — and spending for wants — restrained within our ability to pay.

Third, the heavy train from Washington has been halted for the time being. Our borders this year. And next year it isn't even going to leave the station.

Federal aid now comprises 25 percent of our state's budget. When I stand here next year, no matter what Congress does to, or about, the Reagan budget, that will not be true. We might as well face that, here and now.

This is the first year in a decade that we will receive no general revenue sharing from the federal government. That is a net loss of $13 million from federal dollars which have flowed, each year, without restriction into our treasury.

Now they are gone and, I believe, they're not coming back. The plain, harsh truth is that when the federal deficit is a trillion dollars, and when the budget deficit of the federal government is $80 billion a year, the federal government isn't sharing revenue — it's sharing debt.

The result of the federal government's efforts to satisfy every voice crying for "more" has been to turn the printing presses on triple shifts; crowd the job-producing private sector out of the credit markets; cheapen the dollars of wage earners and pensioners — all of us — and shine ruinous interest rates and double-digit inflation as a way of life; push us up the steps of the OPEC gallows, and leave us twisting slowly to death in the grip of dependence. In short — to destroy the American dream.

We are all in part responsible. We have pretended that "federal dollars" come from some mythical treasury to which we ourselves do not contribute. We have chosen to believe that we could buy our way out of every social problem.

We have chosen short-term profits while foreign competitors have chosen long-term technological investment — and rewards.

We have chosen to become the "I want mine" generation instead of the "I'll earn mine" generation. The result has been acceptance of a productivity and savings rate that are an embarrassment, if not a shame, among the advanced nations of the world.

In November, we gave a new president and a new Congress a mandate to change and change they will. Not just because it is right, though it is. Not just because we must, though we must. But because we people demand it. And they will not let go.

If we, the elected representatives of the people do not correct them to the bottom line of economic stability, fiscal

Simon's appointment to committee is good news

Congressman Paul Simon (24th Illinois District), who formerly represented this community in the General Assembly, can do Quad-Cityans and all Americans a good turn by helping make federal budgeting more controllable and predictable.

An unsuccessful candidate earlier this year for the chairmanship of the powerful House Budget Committee, Simon will chair the committee's task force dealing with entitlements, uncontrollables and indexing.

Entitlements are benefits to which qualified citizens are automatically entitled. Uncontrollables include the interest paid on the national debt. Indexing is the method by which federal benefits increase along with the rise in the Consumer Price Index.

Entirely aside from the merits of such budget (and sometimes non-budget) prudence, a lean government that delivers 100 percent on the taxpayer dollar invested and leaves the maximum possible to the taxpayers' pocket for themselves and their families, we will be let go.

Fourth, and finally, we cannot look for a quick upturn in our economy. Steel, housing, autos, farm machinery, construction equipment — and many of our economic mainstays are down.

If the nation follows a prudent course, relative prosperity will return. But the climb back will be slow. The road may well dip down again before it turns up. And progress along our nation's path to economic recovery will be challenging and painful.

So this is how we begin the new budget year — with lower rates of growth in state resources, increased human needs that drive spending, declining federal resources, and no quick end in sight to recession.

These are our weaknesses, and must be faced. But they must be viewed in perspective.

With the exception of the states of the "Energy Belt" which have essentially escaped recession, these weaknesses are shared by almost all our sister states — those with Democratic as well as Republican governors, those with Republican as well as Democratic legislative majorities.

So if we start the new year weakened by national economic forces, reality compels us to recognize our strengths as well.

First, for all our troubles we are an incredibly strong, wealthy, growing and resourceful state and people. We are in the top rank of manufacturing; we are first in sales, second in corn; we feed and equip the world without peer; we are the Heartland of the Heartland; our transportation mix is second to none.

Second, we have a tax burden lower than the national average; our business climate has improved in the last four years; state government has become a smaller, but better, part of our people's lives in the last four years; and we are a strong, proud, confident people unafraid of our future and, I believe, willing to work — really work — to achieve.

Second, while other states spent when times were good as though there was no tomorrow, in the last three of four years we saved, in other means and put our surplus away in the bank.

As a result, we have not had to cut services across the board. We have not had to pick the pockets of our school children.

During the current fiscal year, we will spend more than we will take in. But we planned to. The budget is unbalanced for the year, but only because we — you and I — thought it reasonable to set aside money to pay for the recession without slashing needed services or raising general taxes. I continue to believe that we will get through recession without having to do either.

But next year's budget must be balanced. We must keep enough in the people's pockets to pay for the recession and provide for emergencies. The "Prairie State" is not going to become the "deadbeat state" under this administration.

Third, this $14.6 billion budget does not cut back. It moves Illinois forward. In some critical areas, on a fast track. But everywhere, forward. Not as fast as some might like, not as quickly as some will demand, but forward within the limits of our resources and the tolerance of our taxpayers.

Fourth, while other states have halted tax relief, or imposed new general taxes, two things are clear in Illinois. In the first five years of this administration, we will have given more than $1.2 billion of tax relief to our people. No administration in the history of this state, no General Assembly, has ever done more.

And in fiscal 1982, the budget suggests more tax relief in the form of tax cuts, just one year, and a year of fiscal crisis at that. No administration, and no General Assembly, has ever delivered that much tax relief in one year in the history of this state.

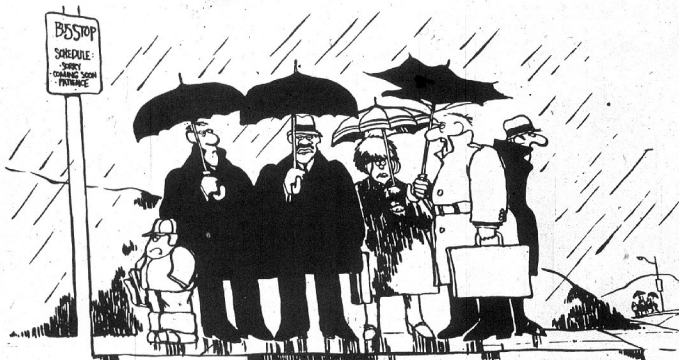

It is clear that they have a major impact on the amount of federal funds expended and on the ability of the government to foresee and adequately fund its operating costs.

Dog roamed, industries departed

To the Editor:

I see that the mayor is running for another term. I suffer from mixed emotions at that and am somewhat disturbed.

About two years ago I was plagued with a roaming dog problem, as many may know, because the only way I could get the city to honor its laws was to pursue the matter through your Forum — and then only after some of his appointed assistants were already discussed in news articles.

One inspector, I believe, has never fulfilled his commitment to his appointment. In my estimation, he has lacked initiative.

I wrestled with this problem for a whole year. During that time, I got answers back from the humanist office, saying, "Tell Mr. Caudle to get out of the dog, and the dog owner will comply with the law."

Now, that was a great answer. I was told, as a taxpayer, "you had better bargain with a dog." I sent several certified letters during this period to an inspector and the mayor which they chose to ignore until my letter appeared in your Forum.

If officials can't control a dog problem in less than one year, how can they efficiently handle the requirements of running this city?

These are some other things that we should consider when voting, including the loss of industries in our area.

Each street leading to the Tri-City Port is loaded with stop signs. This port will, in time to come, be a shot in the arm for commerce in this city. Everything we can possibly do to help it should be done.

Take a good look at the industry that has left our city — the Army Depot, Union Star, Commonwealth's General Steel, and now A. O. Smith — all gone. This tells me that something up to us is being neglected.

On top of that, we fight new industry that wants to locate in this area. Why?

Drainage plans to aid Briarcliff

To the Editor:

There has been many questions on drainage within the Fourth Ward which I wish to address. During the past four years the city administration has addressed this problem by having the city engineer work with a consultant designing plans and specifications which would alleviate the drainage problems in the Fourth Ward.

A public hearing was held by the city to attain the public's opinion to the plans that were drawn up and when comments criticizing the plans were received alternate plans were begun immediately. This was done not only to benefit the present residents but to accompany the future development that is occurring in the ward.

Presently, work is being done on the North Granite Drainage project by the intersection of 25th and Nameek Drive. A local developer who is developing the Laurels Estate area has plans for that development which I have been assured by the consultant and city engineer would solve that area's problem.

Currently, after great effort the city engineer is designing plans for a wetwell and lift station to accommodate the heavy amount of drainage and storm sewer capable of handling it.

This project and North Granite Drainage will be completely funded by federal funds through the Community Development block grant program. No use of local tax money is involved for the construction project.

The present city administration and alderman of the ward have worked diligently to see these projects through and also meet the needs of the people now and in the future.

Fortunately, federal funds were planned for and set aside to resolve the drainage issue in the Fourth Ward. It is my sincere promise as the alderman of the ward to keep abreast of these projects.

Bailey and Partney work well together

To the Editor:

I was responsible for obtaining 550 signatures on a petition to save the bus in December 1980.

I am a very busy person and have a husband, home and family.

I really did not have the time to go door to door and get the signatures, but I felt that something had to be done about this.

I can't imagine a city the size of Granite City without public transportation.

Without the help of 5th Ward Aldermen Lloyd Bailey and Dan Partney, candidate for mayor, my work would have gone unnoticed.

Bailey presented my petition to the City Council, and Partney rented the Nameek Recreation Center and called a meeting for the public to attend.

We had a great turnout, and it was taken to a vote and passed. Due to this, we still have buses to ride.

I know that many in Lincoln Place ride the bus, because I ride the same bus that you do. Our current mayor was present at the meeting, but we didn't know about it until 10 minutes before the meeting closed.

It was obvious to me that he did not care if we had a bus to ride or not.

Bailey has served our ward very well, with integrity and a lot of hard work. I know because I live in the 5th Ward.

Let's vote these two men into office. You will be in for a wonderful surprise that will benefit those of us in West Granite and Lincoln Place, plus citywide.

These two men work very well together and will bring about some changes that we have needed for a long time. Use these words as food for thought before going to the polls. Know who you are voting for.

City needs experience of mayor

To the Editor:

We have a good voting record in Precinct 31. While serving as a judge in the Nov. 4 election, I had the privilege of seeing over 600 registered voters.

The experience of Mayor Schuler will be needed to cope with the problems of restricted funding. Our precinct has benefited from this administration. Why gamble? Let's be sure with Schuler.

Partney wants debate

Daniel Partney, candidate for mayor of Granite City, has renewed his request to Mayor Paul Schuler and Aldermen Warren Decatur, candidate for mayor, to participate in a debate this Friday at 7:30 p.m. in Memorial Auditorium at Granite City High School.

South and Mayor Schuler has again declined the invitation. Partney noted that the auditorium will hold 670 persons, enabling them to get to know the candidates better before the April 7 election. He also is encouraging radio and cable television coverage of the debate and said, "If the cable and radio are there, I will be there with my opponents or without them."

It is important that a maximum number of the potential voters of our city have an opportunity to see the candidates and hear their views relating to the future of Granite City. A later date will not provide an adequate opportunity for the electorate to evaluate the candidates," Partney said in his invitation to debate.

Schuler previously declined to participate in the debate, noting that the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club is hosting a debate March 20, one week later, and he feels that to debate March 13 would be impolite to detract from the importance of the BPW debate.

Partney said in the latest invitation to debate that he has been assured by a president of BPW that "this will not, in any way, interfere with their plans and program."

In a letter sent to Partney Friday, Mayor Schuler stated, "Your letter concerning a debate on March 13, 1981, would seem to be repetitive in view of the fact that I have accepted an invitation from Business and Professional Women and the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce (to debate) on March 20 before your letter was received in my office."

"I have expressed my wishes with Jim Livingston of the Chamber for radio coverage and also cable TV coverage. The Business and Professional Women have assured me that you have accepted. Therefore, I would urge you to attend so that the issue can be discussed in person," the mayor concluded.

A copy was sent to Decatur, he added.

Only a slight rise in state school aid

The Granite City School District is not expecting significant state help in solving its financial problems for the 1981-82 year, it was indicated at last week's School Board meeting.

Illinois Education Supt. Donald Gill has said he believed Governor James R. Thompson when the governor said there cannot be much extra money in the state budget for the state's elementary and secondary schools.

Thompson asked the State Education Board to bring its request for state school aid into conformity with what he says is available, and Dr. Gill conceded that the board will abandon its original funding request for an increase of $187 million.

In his annual budget message last week, the governor recommended that public schools receive $2.76 billion, a hike of only about $90 million but a "6.9 percent per-pupil increase."

Thompson said the proposed budget reflects a desire to allow school systems to exercise more flexibility in determining their program needs, and to eliminate state mandated programs where appropriate.

The governor said Illinois is in better fiscal condition than many other states, but still is threatened by a large number of federal dollars and by citizen resistance to tax increases. He concluded that schools, like other parts of government, must accept smaller revenue growth than in past years.

"No matter how much we might want to provide more state money for schools than this, it is simply not there this year," Thompson said, adding that an expected 10 percent rise in assessment throughout the state may help districts to counteract the trend in state funding.

He proposed that the state boost its general aid instead of specific grants to school districts. He emphasized a need to contain school transportation costs and to find new ways to finance schools.

In a separate matter, the Illinois House has approved legislation to permit 175 school districts to opt out of the 1980-81, offsetting the "day of thanksgiving" student holiday that honored teachers last year for the state's elementary and secondary schools.

Dr. Gill has commented that the Illinois School Code gave him no choice but to cancel school Jan. 28 for the following day, in line with a joint Congressional resolution signed by the president.

The state superintendent told the Granite City district, under the law to require the closing of schools. The need to close on such short notice caused significant disruption not only in school programs but in the daily lives of many people. It could not under the circumstances.

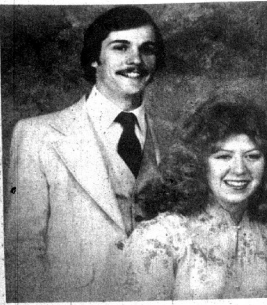

We regret it was necessary under the law to require the closing of schools. The need to close on such short notice caused significant disruption not only in school programs but in the daily lives of many people. It could not under the circumstances.

At the request of special education parents, the Granite City board decided to allow students to display a state proclamation designating 1981 as "the year of disabled persons."

Anchorage seniors hear plans

Fifty members and five guests attended the Anchorage Senior Citizens Club's March business meeting held last week at the Anchorage Recreation Hall.

Augusta Lampe, president, was in charge and several reports were presented. A seniors' gardening program was discussed.

It was announced transportation will be available for those wishing to attend the Senior Citizens' Fair at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville on March 23.

Members were invited to attend the Granite City Business and Professional Women's prayer brunch.

Women's books donated to high school libraries

In observance of Women's History Week, March 8-15, the Metro East Women's Political Caucus will donate the book "Math Equals: Biographies of Women Mathematicians and Related Activities" by Teri Perri to high school libraries in Alton, Wood River, Granite City, Edwardsville, Collinsville, Belleville and East St. Louis.

Funds for this project were donated by members of the Caucus and were matched by Addison-Wesley Publishing Co. through the local representative, Larry Smalle of Granite City.

The first celebration of Women's History Week was in March 1977 in Sonoma County, Calif.

By 1980, governors and legislatures in 16 states, including Illinois, had joined President Carter in proclaiming official observance of the contributions of American women.

This week will mark efforts to spur "the recovery of women's history."

A resolution introduced in the 96th Congress by Barbara Mikulski dedicated this week to women who "helped found the nation in countless ways as servants, slaves, nurses, nuns, homemakers, industrial workers, teachers, reformers, soldiers and pioneers."

Sunday, March 8, the first day of Women's History Week, was International Women's Day and commemorated an 1857 protest demonstration by women garment and textile workers in New York.

The Caucus chose Teri Perri's book to bring to the attention of schools and parents in this area, as a way to encourage participation of girls in high school mathematics and science courses.

SYMPHONIC CONCERT

With Stewart Kinney of Granite City as trombonist, the University Symphonic Band of SIUE presented a concert Sunday afternoon in the Communications Building theater. Under the direction of Marcia Ann La Reau, the band performed selections by Reed, Bach, Erickson, Gershwin, Lecuona and Gould.

Last year this young national organization worked very hard growing from concept to reality. They have validated NHO corporate identity and secured IRS status, established independent offices and financial records and supported the work of the eleven national committees. The national organization has made great strides in the past year with much of the credit due to the expert guidance of Dr. Josefina Magno and a large core of volunteers at the national headquarters.

3 SPEAKERS LEFT COMMUNIST CONTROL
How and why they left their homes in Europe to live in the United States will be related by the wives of three SIUE faculty members at a meeting of the SIUE Women's Club, Thursday at 11:30 a.m., in the Maple Room of the University Center.

Doralice Winter of Czechoslovakia, Brigitta Steffen of Latvia and Agnes Pal of Hungary share common experiences. They chose to leave the countries they loved rather than live under dictatorship, and all three wound up residing in this area, married to college professors.

Council again denies solicitation request

Despite a threat of a lawsuit, the Granite City Council last week decided to deny permission to the Illinois Public Action Council to solicit door-to-door in Granite City during July.

The rejection of the council's request marked the second time the council has refused to allow solicitors for the group to work in the city. Last August, rejection of the IPAC request led to a lengthy debate between First Ward Alderman Charles Douglas and the rest of the council.

Douglas called the group the kind of organization he would not mind joining and contended the council had no right to prohibit the solicitation, which is protected under the First and 14th Amendments of the U.S. Constitution.

He cited a legal opinion from Attorney Donnie Rudd of Schaumburg, Ill., who claimed more than 95 percent success in prosecuting municipalities and villages who rejected permission for solicitations. The opinion also said the city had no right to demand proof of good character or reputation or to refuse a solicitation permit on the basis of prior criminal activity.

Alderman Sam Whitmer Tuesday night took a strong stand against allowing the door-to-door solicitations, saying, "Any criminal with a record could canvass this town, go in homes and case these homes for future criminal activity. "I don't want to be responsible for them going into the homes of our people in Granite City. If they want to take further action, let them, and we will do what we can," Whitmer concluded. Alderman Glen Sprinkle of the Fourth Ward said he has talked to local legislators about the matter and they are studying legislation which would allow home-rule cities to control solicitations. "We are home-rule and we can set our own policies. I don't think the people want this and I think we can stop it," Sprinkle concluded. Alderman Paul Fisk of the Third Ward said, "I wonder if the courts are going to take away the rights of the (city) councils to protect the rights of our citizens?" A motion by Alderman Paul Ray Bowler of the Seventeenth Ward to deny solicitation permission was approved with only Douglas voting no. Alderman Margaret Noen was absent from the meeting.

Girl Scouts seek award

During the month of February, Junior Girl Scout Troop 359 of Emerson School began working on a Girl Scout Scouting Everywhere badge and have participated in various activities to complete requirements for the award. Myra Parrish, district chairman and Debbie Marshall, district advisor, visited a regular troop meeting and shared experiences concerning their volunteer work with the River Bluffs Girl Scout Council.

The troop programs designed to complete badge requirements include work on a booklet relating to Juliette Lowe, founder of Girl Scouts in this country, and preparations for a Girl Scout Brownie Troop.

Troop members also prepared crafts and learned some of the language and customs of Greece for Neighborhood II Thinking Day celebration. The Girl Scouts also viewed two films on Girl Scout National Centers.

Other troop activities included making tray favors for Mobile Meals through St. Elizabeth Medical Center. Melanie Morris and Ida Manning presented an appreciation plaque, on behalf of the troop, to Miss Patti Bryarly for her assistance to the troop in earning the horse lovers badge.

Victor Popovsky, a sixth grade teacher at Emerson School, visited the group at a regular meeting to teach the girls the Girl Scout Promise in Greek.

Glen Carbon dealer to provide 43 cars

Four Flags Motors of Glen Carbon will provide 43 new patrol cars for the Madison County sheriff department, the County Board decided at a special meeting last week.

On the advice of State's Attorney Donald Weber, the board unanimously rescinded its earlier decision to buy the autos from Ackerman Buick of St. Louis County. He ruled that Ackerman lacks a state license to sell autos in Illinois.

Board Member Charles Bode favored rescinding but then opposed awarding the business to Four Flags, commenting that the county has too many autos in use.

Sheriff Emil Toffant said 73 cars are needed. In addition to the 43 being replaced, some of which have over 150,000 miles of use, 30 autos are leased. Both dealers bid on Buick Skylarks, Ackerman quoting $210,277 and Four Flags, $212,094.

Ackerman Attorney George Ruppinger said he will advise that agency to sue Madison County in the federal courts, seeking lost profits, incidental damages, legal fees and perhaps punitive damages. He described the state's action as "a substantial interference in interstate commerce."

Thomas Nick, Ackerman fleet manager, said the delivery of the cars is from the factory to the agency in Missouri, and that it is a "shuttling" to Illinois rather than a delivery.

Jerry Ackerman said Tuesday he expects to proceed with a court challenge.

Weber cautioned that a suit could be serious for Missouri auto dealers, setting a precedent that might prompt Illinois governmental bodies to exclude from their bid calls all Missouri dealers unlicensed in Illinois.

Job Fair for handicapped

"The Parents for Special Education, president Mrs. Melba Grady and Region 1 Special Education Director Larry Dew, announced that a 'Job Fair for the handicapped' is being planned for April 29 at the Granite City Township Hall, 2060 Delmar Ave., from 9:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

The program will be the second annual Job Fair to be held for Quad-City handicapped residents. This year's fair will include the Collinsville Special Education District.

William Monical, Boy Scout executive, has employed handicapped individuals to work in the Scout Office for the past ten years. He states "The relationship has been most rewarding. It has been a real source of satisfaction, watching each of these young persons develop as they work with real situations that have been challenging and needed."

They have grown and we have found growth of our own, by helping them find places for themselves in a world that, for the most part, tolerates only those who meet artificially set standards of performance. I would encourage anyone to accept the rewarding challenge of helping a person who must try harder; for you will find, as we have, that trying at all, is a rare commodity, today."

Many employers have already received invitations to participate in the Job Fair. An invitation has been extended to all employers who would like to set up a booth at the Job Fair. There is no fee charged, and no obligations other than an interest to become better informed about handicapped persons wishing to become active in the "work world."

Mrs. Grady and Larry Dew are being assisted by the following committee: Stu Mills, Loretta Cook, Mrs. Jean Fisher, Mr. Bob Gagliano, Mrs. Kay Hahne, Kay Huges, Judy Lee, Mrs. Dorothy Ljewska, Mr. Skip McMillan, Debbie Plummer and Norma Roney.

If more information is desired by any one wishing to set up a booth, they may call Mrs. Grady 877-8006.

All handicapped job seekers should begin preparing for the Job Fair by writing a resume to bring with them, be ready for light interviewing, and bear in mind that there is no guarantee that all applicants will be hired.

ZIP code directories on sale at post office

The 1981 National ZIP Code and Post Office Directory, priced at $8 per copy, is available through the Granite City post office. Postmaster Jack D. Wilkins announced today.

Wilkins also advised that customers can save money by turning in old directory covers or by buying eight copies of the publication. By trading in the front cover of any previous directory, a dollar discount will be given toward the purchase of a new issue. The price for eight copies is $56, an 88 savings compared with the cost of the copies bought individually.

According to Wilkins, the Postal Service began publishing the informative directory, which also contains a listing of all U.S. post offices, in 1965. Prior to that time, individual ZIP Code booklets were published for each state.

The ZIP (Zoning Improvement) Plan Code program was established in 1963. Today, approximately 97 percent of all mail processed by the Postal Service is ZIP Coded. The directory is an ideal reference source for commercial mailers requiring current addressing information. Last year, approximately 223,000 copies of the publication were sold.

What McQueen learned from Dale Robertson

By NANCY ANDERSON

HOLLYWOOD — Dale Robertson, now a regular on ABC's new "Dynasty," remembers that his "Tales of Wells Fargo," a series in which he starred for seven years, was training ground for lots of neophyte actors including Steve McQueen.

"We couldn't afford to hire anybody you'd ever heard of," Robertson was reminiscing the other night during a "Dynasty" party on the show's half-million dollar set at 20th Century Fox, "so we used a lot of newcomers who went on to become stars."

In the case of McQueen, Robertson remembered that the kid picked up at least one trick from the old pro.

"I'd wear my hat low on my forehead," Robertson said, "and Steve asked me why I did this."

"I told him that, when I was going to react to something, I'd push the brim back, and this would get the viewers' attention."

"Later, when he was starring in his own show ('The Bounty Hunter'), I noticed that he was doing the same thing."

After 30 years in show business, Robertson, a native Oklahoman, moved back to his home state to raise horses on his Haymaker Ranch, but was willing to come back to the coast for "Dynasty," because he figures the show may be "sort of fun."

He doesn't, however, give it his uncritical approval and admits that he complained about the violence in the pilot.

Linda Evans playing the beautiful fiancée-then-wife of a Denver oil tycoon (John Forsythe) was also remembering McQueen during the set party, since she was in his last picture, "Tom Horn." She had no idea that his health was precarious when he made the movie, she said,

LINDA EVANS
... Wonders if writers have been peeking because he seemed fit, energetic and optimistic.

"He talked about what he wanted to do in the future," she said, "and told me about plans he would never have mentioned had he thought he was ill."

Linda finds the life of the character she plays so like portions of her own that she said, "I wonder whether the writers have been peeking."

"I was married to an older man, and I had to change my lifestyle, like the woman I play."

The older man was John Derek whose wife she was before Bo took over the assignment.

Because they are playing an enormously wealthy couple, Evans and Forsythe were asked what they'd do first if they found themselves that rich in real life.

While she's never been as rich as her home screen alter-ego, Linda said, "I've lived quite, quite well, and I've found out that the things you thought that you wanted don't mean that much."

"If I were that rich," said Forsythe, "I'd buy a football team and an airplane." Any team in particular? "Well, I lean toward San Diego."

Susan Howard, who's become a regular on "Dallas" in the role of Donna Culver, is a woman of strong Christian faith who can't understand why certain religious groups attack the show as immoral.

"If you watch 'Dallas,'" she says, "you know that it teaches a very moral lesson, because the sin in the show only brings unhappiness." "Not even J.R. is really happy."

Dee Presley confides that a man with $500 million is seeking her hand, but she's not yet ready to confide his identity. They met in a hotel lobby when he accosted her with, "I'd think that you were Dee Presley except that you're more beautiful."

TV Mailbag

By THOM MEAD

HOLLYWOOD — The TV Mailbag:

Q. Everytime I watch figure skating competition on ABC, I am subjected to Dick Button. Who is he? — O.R., Victoria, British Columbia

A. Although sometimes criticized for the smug manner in which he provides commentary of ice skating competition, Dick Button is a skating expert. He won an Olympic Gold Medal for his performance in the men's competition at the 1952 Winter Games. He turned professional after his Olympic performance, appearing several years with "Ice Capades" and "Holiday on Ice." He is a graduate of Harvard Law School. Through his own film company, Candid Productions, he created "The Superstars" and "Battle of the Network Stars."

Q. Weren't there two "Dr. Kildare" television series? Did Richard Chamberlain star in both? — V.M., Belhaven, N.C.

A. Yes, there were two series but Chamberlain only starred in one of them. He played Dr. Kildare in the one-hour version of the medical series between 1961-65, with Raymond Massey in the role of Dr. Gillespie.

A. To a certain extent, the vast majority of prime-time shows are soap operas. But if you are focusing on programs like "Dallas," it is not surprising that audiences exist for such shows.

Q. It's bad enough during daytime television but why are soap operas cropping up during prime time? Are things that desperate at the three networks? — S.C.C., Fort Clinton, Ohio

A. It is a mistake to think daytime soaps are watched exclusively by women. Men are as hooked on them as their counterparts, although it has only been lately that men have been willing to acknowledge this.

A. A soap opera market during prime time has existed for years and "Dallas" proves it.

Q. Is there a title to the theme song for "Prisoner: Cell Block H," and who sings it? — M.P., Huntington Park, Calif.

A. The title of the theme is "On the Inside" and the singer is Lynne Hamilton. The music was recorded by RCA under catalog No. VPBO-0219B.

Q. When will "Man from U.N.C.L.E." return to our local television station? Also, what was the name of the role played by David McCallum? — R.T., Fishkill, N.Y.

A. It's hard to tell when "Man from U.N.C.L.E." will show up in your area. Since the 1964-68 series is in syndication, local stations could run it anytime. I suggest you contact your television station. As for Napoleon Solo's partner, he's Illya Kuryakin.

Psychics predict the future

By DICK MAURICE

LAS VEGAS — Four of America's leading psychics recently got together for a visit on my national cable television show seen on Superstation 17 Saturday nights out of Atlanta.

TAMARA RAND, the lady who is taking over the crown from JEANE DIXON, joined regression expert MICHAEL FORREST, astrologer to the presidents, PROFESSOR HARVEY and top Washington, D.C., psychic, MAUD CHELFANT.

And what's in store for the future? According to Professor Harvey, this year someone will try to assassinate

PRESIDENT RONALD REAGAN. He also claims NANCY REAGAN is the boss of "the show" even more than ELEANOR ROOSEVELT was.

Tamara Rand foresees that the Russians are scientifically advanced enough to stimulate earthquakes in this country and in other countries. DIONNE WARWICK will be married and have a movie offer. DOC SEVERINSEN will get a divorce. JOAN RIVERS will suffer from health problems. TOM SNYDER's career will take a nosedive — he will switch networks. SYLVESTER STALLONE and DOROTHY HAMILL will come to Vegas with singing nightclub acts (in Hamill's case, Rand believes that she should not throw away her ice skates).

DEE PRESLEY, step-mother of ELVIS, believes now that the "King of Rock 'n' Roll" may have been murdered.

Dee, in an exclusive interview with me only a few months ago, told me she was convinced that Elvis committed suicide. Now she claims that "new evidence" has entered into the picture. Although she refused to state what the new evidence was, she looks at the pattern of Elvis' last weeks alive. He would spend hours watching films of the Kennedy assassination and confessed at that time that he was obsessed with the idea that he was going to be murdered.

Why would anyone want to kill Elvis? Dee believes it was because of his terrible temper and the way he treated people that worked for him. Or maybe it was the money that they thought Elvis was going to leave them in his will.

Everyone is in shock over HELEN REDDY filing for divorce. This is not the first

HELEN REDDY

...Is return trip to Arrowhead the answer? time that the talented lady and dynamo manager have gone their separate ways.

In spite of identification with the women's movement, Helen admits that she spent a major part of her marriage to agent JEFF WALD as the less than equal partner, that Jeff was busy climbing the career ladder while Helen's own talents stagnated. Though Jeff was her manager, Helen stayed in the background for a good number of years and it wasn't until their relationship erupted into violent fights that Jeff realized his wife needed more of an outlet than just being Mrs. Wald.

Unfortunately, as Helen's career gained momentum, the marriage suffered even more. And in a decision born of resentment and anger, Helen embarked upon an affair. Separation followed, but somehow they couldn't stay apart. They went to Lake Arrowhead for a three-day reconciliation weekend, locking themselves in their room. They sorted out their problems and talked over their differences. It worked and it saved their marriage, then.

"Since that day we worked things out at Arrowhead," says Jeff, "I have felt I couldn't fail. Because she believed in me, there was no such thing as failure."

But failure in marriage struck again — divorce one day — no divorce the next. Another trip is needed to Arrowhead.

Quote of the week: JOHN TRAVOLTA — "I keep on thinking there's gonna be the effortless day when everything is in sync, when it's much easier to accept the lows with the highs and there's no longer this endless search for harmony."
